John D. Blossom, Jr.
President
Alliance Benefit Group
Alliance Benefit Group of Illinois

John Blossom is president of Alliance Benefit Group, a national TPA firm, with thirteen regional offices. Each ABG office is independently owned and controlled to offer regional administration. The company offers full actuarial services for defined benefit plans and provides total benefits consulting and administration through its portal product www.allbenefits.com. ABG provides education services and investment guidance to retirement plan participants through several different resources.

Blossom is president of Alliance Benefit Group of Illinois, Inc., the ABG licensee for Illinois, with a branch office in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The office serves more than 600 retirement plans with participants in 42 states and assets of more than $500 million from their office in Peoria.

As a member of the benefits field for more than 30 years, Blossom is a full "Member" of the American Society of Pension Actuaries. He is a CLU and life member of the life insurance industry's Million Dollar Round Table. Blossom also is the founder of Retirement Administrators and Designers of America (RADA), a resource-sharing group for retirement plan administrators with a history exceeding 30 years. He is also a member of the Steering Committee of the Society of Plan Administrators and Recordkeepers (SPARK). Currently, Blossom is serving his second year as a member of the Charles Schwab TPA Advisory Board.

John Blossom attended the University of Colorado, majoring in economics and finance and earned the Master of Business Administration degree from the Graduate Theological Foundation in January 1995.
